

NEZINSCOT FARM present

Date: April 21st 2018

Join us April 21st in celebration of all things art at our annual Artisans Guild Open House. Stop by to see and experience everything that guild has to offer.

A curated show and tell featuring products from the farm's fiber studio, handmade items from select guild members, and creations from this year's University of Cincinnati artist apprentices. There will be a formal discussion and tour of guild, the life of wool project at 1 p.m.

Along with the fiber studio being open for 10% off sales, our current apprentices will be showcasing their "Farm to Body Wear" projects that they have been working on for the past three months. This year's focus will be on children's clothing as well as a personal piece of their own. All unique items will be on display for sale with 50% of proceeds going to the student's art scholarship fund. Can't attend the event? We will be raffling off a special handmade piece!
